EOQ Diversity policy

EOQ is the European Organisation for quality and operates as a network organization for professionals in the field of quality.

Diversity is a key value in our activities and employment policy.

EOQ commits to going beyond the legal obligations with respect to nondiscrimination and considers diversity to be an asset. In our activities and human resources management we embrace the benefits of differences in age, gender, health status, race and religion and promote an organisational culture based on equality of opportunity.

EOQ welcomes a wide range of members and partners coming from different backgrounds and cultures and exhibiting various viewpoints and experiences.

We respect the principle of non-discrimination and promote pluralism and diversity troughout our organization. We believe that equality of opportunity and promotion of diversity are key factors in stimulating innovation and creativity and will help fulfil our mission: to Improve European society through the promotion of Quality in its broadest sense.
